

When I started working with Kari Apel as my accountant, I had no idea how much more than an accountant she would be. Kari truly cares about her clients, and you can tell because she goes way beyond accounting to help a business owner with any information that they need in order to legally and properly run their business! Kari will “take the time it takes” to ensure that you have the information that you need as a business owner to make wise, informed decisions. She continues to exceed all of my expectations every time I have a financial need for my business, and I feel confident that should an audit ever arise, I will have no worries because I know that Kari Apel is doing my accounting!
